Subject: New Company Registration Number

Dear Sir / Madam,

Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) is pleased to inform you that it is launching its E-Services project shortly to facilitate the corporate sector, and enable companies to incorporate as well as file their statutory returns online through the internet. E-Services project will become functional in August 2007 and the details of this new system will be available on the SECP website www.secp.gov.pk by next week.

2. All existing companies will file their returns online from the date to be announced at a later date and companies would be required to log on to the system to file all statutory returns using the internet. Detailed system and procedures to enable you to use the new system will be communicated to you within the next four weeks.

3. Besides E-Services, SECP has also initiated Scanning and Archiving Project under which all existing company records would be scanned and stored on computers for quick and ready accessibility. Therefore, together with the Scanning project, E-Services would lead to a paperless working environment in the future.

4. In order to comply with the law, the need to rationalize the Company Registration Numbers, SECP has decided that the existing Registration Numbers of companies shall be replaced by a new Corporate Universal Identification Number (CUIN) which shall be the new Company Registration Number. The new CUINs will make the E-Services processes emanating from SECP and will enable it to further improve its service delivery to the corporate sector. Please note that the existing Registration Numbers will not be valid after August 1, 2007 and you must use the new CUIN in all correspondence with SECP. Please find attached your company's new and existing Registration Numbers on a separate letter which can be produced as evidence of new Registration Number in your dealings with all other government departments with whom you correspond on various issues.

5. We would like to thank you in advance for your cooperation in implementing the new CUIN and in adopting SECP's E-Services programme, which we are certain will be beneficial for all stakeholders.
